

Alexander Schmidt graduated from the University of Applied Sciences in Germany. His employment experience includes leading of multiple international projects at such companies like Rheinmetall Defense, ALSTOM Transmission & Distribution and General Electric Company. He is currently the leading technical expert for monitoring and diagnostics solutions for European and African region, with special fields of interest in High Frequency Partial Discharge (PD) and online DGA monitoring data analysis. Active member of CIGRE JWG A2/D1.74.

